

ABSOLUTE CAPITAL OPPORTUNITIES FUND

MONTHLY FACT SHEET - CAPOX

JANUARY 2018

ABSOLUTE FUNDS

UNIQUE LONG/SHORT APPROACH

The Fund's sub-adviser has a flexible approach and will vary net exposures over time. They will opportunistically use different securities to hedge or short. This contrasts sharply with many static exposure long/short equity funds.

FUND ATTRIBUTES

- LONG POSITIONS:
Concentrated group of value-oriented long equity positions held with a long-term time horizon. Bias towards quality businesses (management, product, competitive advantage/moat).
- SHORT POSITIONS:
Short exposure primarily used to vary net exposure using indexes or single name equities. Portfolio has historically maintained a moderate net long bias but has experienced a significant range over time.
- OPTIONS:
Opportunistic use of the options market to add cheap, asymmetric tail hedges - upside or downside - when attractive.

"We use independent bottom-up research to invest in companies with strong competitive positions trading at a price well below what we believe is a reasonable private market value. The price paid for any security is one of the single greatest determinants of both expected return and expected risk. As time horizons for many investors have shortened dramatically, we believe taking a position in a security where the catalyst is not imminent can provide a significant competitive advantage."

- Kovitz Investment Group

As stated in the prospectus, the Absolute Capital Opportunities Fund's Total Annual Operating Expense ratio (gross) for Institutional Shares is 3.51%. By prospectus, the net expense ratio is 2.45%, as Absolute Investment Advisers LLC has contractually agreed to waive its fee and/or reimburse Fund expenses to limit Total Annual Fund Operating Expenses. Returns include the reinvestment of dividends and capital gains. Some of the Fund's fees were waived or expenses reimbursed; otherwise, returns would have been lower.

Additionally, the Fund's Adviser has contractually agreed to waive its fee and/or reimburse Fund expenses to limit Total Annual Fund Operating Expenses (excluding all taxes, interest, portfolio transaction expenses, dividend and interest expenses on short sales, acquired fund fees and expenses, proxy expenses and extraordinary expenses) to 1.75% through August 1, 2019 (the "Expense Cap"). This Expense Cap may only be raised or eliminated with the consent of the Board of Trustees.

Definitions: The S&P 500 Index is a broad-based, unmanaged measurement of changes in stock market conditions based on the average of 500 widely held common stocks. The HFRX Global Hedge Fund Index, calculated by Hedge Fund Research, Inc., tracks the performance of international hedge funds and is designed to be representative of the overall composition of the hedge fund universe. It is comprised of eight strategies; convertible arbitrage, distressed securities, equity hedge, equity market neutral, event driven, macro, merger arbitrage, and relative value arbitrage. The strategies are asset weighted based on the distribution of assets in the hedge fund industry. It is not possible to invest directly in an index or average.

The Fund's net asset value and investment return will fluctuate based upon changes in the value of its portfolio securities. There is no assurance that the Fund will achieve its investment objective, and an investment in the Fund is not by itself a complete or balanced investment program. For a complete description of the Fund's principal investment risks please refer to the prospectus.

The Fund may be exposed to varying forms of risk. The Fund is non-diversified and may focus its investments in the securities of a comparatively small number of issuers. Concentration in securities of a limited number of issuers exposes a fund to greater market risk and potential monetary losses than if its assets were diversified among the securities of a greater number of issuers. The Fund may invest in small- and medium-sized companies which involve greater risk than investing in larger, more established companies, such as increased volatility of earnings and prospects, higher failure rates, and limited markets, product lines or financial resources.

The Fund may invest in foreign or emerging markets securities which involve special risks, including the volatility of currency exchange rates and, in some cases, limited geographic focus, political and economic instability, and relatively illiquid markets.

The Fund may invest in debt securities which are subject to interest rate risk. An increase in interest rates typically causes a fall in the value of the debt securities in which the Fund may invest. The Fund may also invest in high yield, lower rated (junk) bonds which involve a greater degree of risk and price fluctuation than investment grade bonds in return for higher yield potential. The Fund's distressed debt strategy may involve a substantial degree of risk, including investments in sub-prime mortgage securities.

The Fund may purchase securities of companies in initial public offerings. Special risks associated with these securities may include a limited number of shares available for trading, unseasoned trading, lack of investor knowledge of the company and limited operating history. The Fund may leverage transactions which include selling securities short as well as borrowing for other than temporary or emergency purposes. Leverage creates the risk of magnified capital losses.

The Fund may also invest in derivatives which can be volatile and involve various types and degrees of risks, depending upon the characteristics of a particular derivative. The Fund may invest in options and futures which are subject to special risks and may not fully protect the Fund against declines in the value of its stocks. In addition, an option writing strategy limits the upside profit potential normally associated with stocks. Futures trading is very speculative, largely due to the traditional volatility of futures prices.

Investors should carefully consider the Fund's investments objectives, risks, charges and expenses before investing. This and other information is in the prospectus, a copy of which may be obtained by calling (888) 992-2765 or visiting the Fund's web site: www.absoluteadvisers.com. Please read the prospectus carefully before you invest.
